MASON THURSTON WRAPAROUND INITIATIVE

Empowering children/youth, their families and their communities.

What is Wraparound?

Wraparound is a proven, effective approach to developing and coordinating care plans that build on the strengths of the child/youth and family. It is a process, not a service or program.

Wraparound is about gathering together the important people in a child/youth's life to create a plan that supports the youth/family to achieve successes in their lives.

- The individualized plan is based on needs and strengths identified by the youth/family.
- Plans are youth/ family driven.
- The team is chosen by the youth/ family.
- The team has a unified mission and shared goals.
- Natural supports and community resources are key to the plan's success.

Benefits of Wraparound

- Instills hope in youth/families.
- Enhances youth/family skills.
- Strengthens connection between parent and child/youth.
- Increases resilience in youth/families.
- Building bridges to natural supports in their community.

What to Expect from the team process?

- Discovery of strengths and needs.
- Identification of informal and formal supports.
- Individualized plan for the youth and/or whole family, prioritized by the family.
- Measurable objectives
- Coordinated transition from formal wraparound process to reliance on natural supports.
